

Review of: "COVID-19: Health risk factors among students' population in Albania"

Aluette Merenda¹

¹ University of Palermo

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper "COVID-19: Health risk factors among students' population in Albania" is a significant contribution to the field.
It is well organized and comprehensively described.
The work scientifically sound and not misleading.
All the references are appropriate and adequate to related and previous works.
The English used is correct and readable.
i recommend this paper for publishing.	