Thank you for this opportunity to review a paper for the Qeios journal. This article is a valuable addition to the CSR literature, expanding the horizons of research into business responsibility and ethics. The paper could expand the introduction by elaborating the concept of ESG and the relevance of CSR in the age of the Anthropocene. Minor copyediting suggestions include, under the heading 3 - the author has compiled - could be corrected as the authors have compiled a graph.... The article is recommended for publication once the suggestions are incorporated.
