Open Peer Review on Qeios

Antihypertensive Agent

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Antihypertensive Agent. NCI Thesaurus. Code C270.

Any substance used in the treatment of acute or chronic hypertension regardless of pharmacological mechanism. Antihypertensive agents include diuretics, alpha-adrenergic and beta-adrenergic antagonists, angiotensin-converting enzyme inhibitors, calcium channel blockers, ganglionic blockers, and vasodilator agents.