

Review of: "How Competent are Health Professionals in Delivering Nutrition Education? A Cross-Sectional Study in Ebonyi State, Nigeria"

Monica Ghezzi<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Azienda Provinciale per i Servizi Sanitari

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work deals with a topic of fundamental importance in primary care and, in my opinion, has the merit of underlining the importance of nutritional training in the training curricula of health workers, which is still too incomplete in many countries. I would have appreciated further references to the sources used to construct the nutritional knowledge questionnaires and some specific references to pediatric nutrition.