Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper uses different methods for the research, which makes it very interesting and singular. There are some issues, not major, but working on them will allow readability and will add reliability on the information,

Abstract: needs to improve adding few sentences about the research findings, as well as its contribution to this field of research and existing literature.

Introduction: the author begins the "introduction" by introducing the abbreviated form of the phrase "Environment-behaviour", since this is the first instance of the phrase's inclusion in the body of the paper, it is essential to spell out the entire term or phrase and present the corresponding abbreviation in parentheses.

References there is lack of reference in some parts of the paper

"The 32 for each context was assigned based on having more than 30 samples to apply parametric methods for calculating the correlation coefficients"

"According to the results of the same study, historical contexts have more social interactions than modern cases".

The "literature review" should include more recent references.

Authors need to change the table 4 caption from "visual graph analysis" into visibility graph analysis".

Overall the paper is very good and can be published.
