

Review of: "Sacred Plants and Their Miraculous or Healing Properties"

Taleb Ali Khalid

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article presents interesting and original results of the use of sacred psychoactive medicinal plants with indisputable ethnobotanical value. In addition, it is well structured. These results can open another avenue of research to evaluate and test the active ingredients of these plants indicated in the article and to discover remedies for neurological disorders.