

Review of: "Factors Influencing the Laptop Buying Behavior of Students in Vietnam"

Tanpat Kraiwanit<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Rangsit University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The abstracts should be further developed, with a specific focus on presenting clear results and highlighting the contributions of the research.
- To enhance the research background in the introduction section, it is advisable to incorporate recent studies conducted after the pandemic that have employed similar variables. This will provide additional context and strengthen the foundation for the current research.
- A comprehensive literature review is absent from your work. It would be beneficial to include previous studies that investigate laptop purchase behavior and those that apply the theoretical framework you've chosen. This will help expand the number of references, which is currently quite limited.
- The results section, along with the discussion and conclusion sections, should be further elaborated and developed.