

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Cancer Fatigue

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Cancer Fatigue. NCI Thesaurus. Code C5062.

A debilitating tiredness or total lack of energy, often reported as the most common symptom in individuals with cancer. Cancer fatigue can result from chemotherapy, radiation therapy, surgery, and other treatments; chemotherapy-induced anemia is a very frequent cause. -- 2004