

Review of: "An Oriental Physician's Views and Thoughts on the Global Prevalence of Lumbar Spondylosis – The traditional shoulder-carrying culture and traditional spine of a large eastern country are disappearing silently"

Barbara Cacciatori¹

¹ Azienda sanitaria universitaria Giuliano Isontina (ASU GI)

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The subject matter is interesting, but the author's goal is not clear. The text is not structured in chapters and sub-chapters, for example materials and methods; references are missing. The English form should be revised. The dissertation is based on author's personal experiences , however, are not supported by data collection.