

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Serine/Threonine-Protein Kinase NLK

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Serine/Threonine-Protein Kinase NLK. NCI Thesaurus. Code C90154.

Serine/threonine protein kinase NLK (527 aa, ~58 kDa) is encoded by the human NLK gene. This protein is involved in the mediation of protein phosphorylation that affects cellular differentiation, transcription and signal transduction.