Abstract:

"A large number of cattle are slaughtered" how many? Quantity in relation to what is slaughtered in the world? Is it significant?

What needs to be questioned is the sanitary management inside the slaughterhouse and the welfare of the animals. Perhaps this would generate more profit.

Text:

In the introduction, the focus was local. It needs to be covered and then tapered off, like a funnel. Talk about the world, the country and then the local area.

The literature review needs to be broader.

What about other countries or regions? Are you competitive? Do you intend to expand your market?

General considerations:

- Proofread abstract
- Review English
- Review statistical content, mainly the statistical program used it.
- Innovative work but place local and global importance
- Put some sheets on the results to
- Paragraph formatting
