

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Chemical Exchange Saturation Transfer Magnetic Resonance Imaging

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Chemical Exchange Saturation Transfer Magnetic Resonance Imaging. NCI Thesaurus. Code C116451.

An acquisition technique of MRI that uses differences in the tissue microenvironment, like protein concentration or intracellular pH, to generate contrast differences.