

Review of: "Sentiment Analysis of Opinions about Online Education in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq during COVID-19"

Waleed Maqableh

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

| | |
|---|---|
| Article title: Sentiment Analysis of Opinions about Online Education in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq during COVID-19 Article No.: Qeios ID: SU5BR9.2 | |
| Is this article according to the scope of this journal? | Yes |
| Summary | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The study presents research conducted to analyze the sentiments of learners/educators toward online education during COVID-19 in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq.• The objective of this study is to assess the most suitable model for sentiment analysis of the Kurdish language. |
| Abstract | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The original text is poorly structured and lacks an academic tone. Revision is recommended for clarity, coherence, and proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation.• Make sure to include the following details: Purpose, Design/Methodology/Approach, Findings, and Conclusion. |
| Introduction: | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• It does not contain a thesis statement regarding the research problem. Please add research questions, hypotheses, and other headings in the introduction properly.• Avoid using pronouns such as "I" and "we" when discussing research. For example, replace "our research aims to" with "the research aims to". |
| Review of literature | Insufficient, you need to add more related works |
| Methodology | ok |
| Discussion | ok |
| Conclusion | ok |
| Bibliography/References | Avoid writing references other than English Language. |
| Decision | Requires Major Revision |