

Review of: "“A totally new situation that put us into uncharted waters”: Preschool teachers negotiate their professional identity in respect to online learning during the Covid-19 lockdowns in Greece."

Client William Malinao

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

“A totally new situation that put us into uncharted waters”: Preschool teachers negotiate their professional identity in respect to online learning during the Covid-19 lockdowns in Greece”.

Title:
Abstract:	Good (The authors followed the IMRAD format)
Introduction/ Literature Review	Provide a gap between literatures to justify the need to conduct the study. That is expected contribution of the study to the theory and practice. Provide clear justification the reason behind the conduct of the study. Possibly may follow the common way of writing the introduction. Provide background, the research gap, and the proposed solution after completion of the study. May provide specific objectives with hypothesis (if applicable) for each sub theme of the introduction. May dissect 1.1.5 to identify and align objectives per literature reviewed.
Methodology	How did the authors arrive with 18 participants only? When did they stopped collecting data? What is the sampling method used? Are there criteria in selecting respondents?
Participants	Authors may add information by answering questions above to provide a clearer picture of the respondents.
Procedure and Interview	Explain the process of instrument validation, including observance of health protocols during the interview and informed consent form availability.
Analysis
Findings and Discussion	It is important to highlight the common responses of participants Align findings for each specific objective of the study to ensure attainment of each purpose of the study. May provide discussion per specific objective of the study to ensure attainment of each purpose of the study.
Limitations	Ok
Implication to Policy	Ok
Conclusions	Ok
General Comments	Follow format of the journal Follow in-text citation and refencing. Please refer to the journal format. Ensure all cited authors are reflected in the references. If possible, provide literature reviews that are timely (10 years back).

