Review of: "Time evolution and convergence of simple migration models"

Julio D Rossi[1]

1 University of Buenos Aires

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

A nice paper that deals with two mobility models, the Gravity and the Radiation models, and investigate their behaviour for large times. The Radiation model seems to have a more delicate behaviour. One aspect thta the authors may study in the future is the possible relation of these discrete models with continuous in space/time models driven by partial differential equations.