

Review of: "Impacts of Innovations in Financial Services Delivery on the Macroeconomy in Nigeria"

Shelton Mandeya

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article seems to show evidence of a golden thread from the introduction through to the conclusion. The methods and methodology used captures the study objectives well.

I only have one minor suggestion. The title would sound better if it reads as: Impact of innovations in financial services delivery on the macroeconomy in Nigeria. The word impact being in singular, not in plural. The same goes for the use of the word in the abstract.