

Review of: "Health Outcome and Economic Growth: The Case of Malaria in Nigeria"

Muhammad Qasim Barkat¹

¹ Zhejiang University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Major Revision

- 1: This paper's English writing quality is poor, and the sentence structure needs improvement.
- 2: Authors must use precise English terminology for specific titles and seek consultation from proficient English speakers to ensure a smooth and proper language flow.
- 3: Authors should include the analysis of survey data in graphs, as it is the most suitable method, rather than presenting it in table format.
- 4: Authors are required to represent the model in a visual form, preferably in the format of a figure.
- 5: Additionally, authors should include 1-2 figures that provide a summary of the entire article, ensuring they are both interesting and captivating to grab the readers' attention.
- 6: The paper lacks a clear objective. It is recommended to express a comprehensive objective and highlight the study's gaps in the concluding paragraph of the introduction and within the abstract.
- 7: Enhance the conclusion to make it more comprehensive and provide solid recommendations for future research.