The paper concept is good for developing the understanding of knowledge. However, the methodology part will need more clarification. A sample size of only 1 teacher is not valid for research purposes. Also, usually the sample size collected needs to depend on the population; therefore, 22 students also might not be significant enough to represent the research area.

Incorrect format of citation: in the third paragraph of the introduction, fourth sentence: Fuad et al. (2021) – the comma after “al.” should be deleted.

Provide extra explanation of the terms used in the article and be consistent throughout the article.

Introduction: Provide some explanation of Tampora Beach as the location of the case study.
