

Review of: "Are non-native speakers' English pronunciation similar?: Evidence through PRAAT recording software"

Shipra Arora<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Dronacharya College of Engineering

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Author, paper idea is excellent . But there is no significant result as you have considered only two female speakers. i advise you to increase data size as well as include both male and female speakers so that significant fruitful result can be drawn. However your approach and methodology is up to the mark. You are advised to revise the experiment with a large data set. All the best.