The authors may revisit their study and may consider the following notes.

1. The authors mentioned transformative learning theory but they failed to discuss why this theoretical framework is appropriate for this study.
2. How was the data collected? Did the lone participant use the native language in the narratives? If yes, how was the translated data validated?
3. The paper does not show proper citation of previous studies related to the topic under study. However, the reference list shows otherwise.
4. The study appears to be more on author's reflection, rather than data-driven. [for instance, in the abstract – it says 'The author believes...' rather than saying 'The data suggest...']
5. What makes this study unique? What is its contribution to the current body of knowledge?
