

Review of: "Sustainable Agriculture and Climate Resilience in Türkiye: A Comprehensive Analysis"

DR.Snovia Naseem¹

¹ Jiangsu University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This paper needs to be further improved to meet the basic requirement of the journal.

1. The abstract and the introduction of this paper didn't show the background and the meanings of this study. It's hard to see its value to the science as well as to the practice. Also the topic of this paper is too short.
2. Introduction should also be clearly stated research questions and targets first. Then answer several questions: Why is the topic important (or why do you study on it)? What are research questions? What has been studied? What are your contributions? Outline of the paper can also be included.
3. Based on the analysis and their results, the authors provided policy recommendations. Some of them are effective and helpful, but some are not. That if the authors could make it in detail would be better.
4. There are some papers addressed this issues in recent years. The authors need to emphasize on the contributions on practically and academically. Please cite some newest ones.