

Review of: "SAM: A Language for Education"

Chitra Jayathilake¹

¹ University of Sri Jayawardenapura

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The subject of “a sociological language—social activity method (SAM)” is of interest to the readership. Likewise, the findings of the current study are noteworthy.

I would like to see this paper published, but I suggest that the author considers the following suggestions.

More evidence for the usefulness of SAM in diverse settings.

A fuller literature review of conceptual constructs.

Potential challenges in deploying SAM.