

Review of: "“Saving the Forest” with a REDD+ Project: Socio-Ecological Repercussions on Indigenous People in Cambodia"

Fatma Nadiah Abd Hamid¹

¹ Universiti Teknologi Mara

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article underscores the importance of Cambodia's efforts in safeguarding its forests and contributing to global climate goals. The alignment of economic benefits with ecological conservation is a promising step toward sustainable development.