Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

While the authors' response addresses some of the points raised, there are areas where further clarification or improvement could enhance the overall quality of the paper. Specifically:

Abstract Clarity: The explanation of "structured pragmatic approach" could be simplified further for better clarity.

Detailed Conflicts Explanation: More elaboration on the conflicts surrounding colleagues' reservations about the new concept would improve understanding.

Philosophical Connection Elaboration: Providing a deeper exploration of Albert Einstein's quote and its application to healthcare challenges would enrich the discussion.

Flow and Coherence: Ensuring smooth transitions between sections within the paper would improve overall coherence and readability.
