Although it is an interesting title.

But you should pay attention to several points.

1- The format of the written article is more descriptive and not a review

2- If it is going to be a review, the format of the article will be something else and this is not it. But if you write the article in the form of descriptive study, you will get a better result with this format.

3- If you write the article as a descriptive article, you should provide more details.

Introduction about birth statistics in different social levels. and comparison with global statistics.

method : Study population. Sample size . The method of collecting information. How to analyze information added Discussion: The article has no discussion. Please compare the findings with the findings of other countries.
