

Review of: "[Mini Review] Sinus Bacterial Infections"

Maria Rita Bianco¹

¹ Università degli Studi "Magna Græcia" di Catanzaro

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I carefully read the mini review article, the objective is interesting but the topic is treated superficially in all sections, for example: The pathogenesis of sinusitis with epidemiological data are not discussed, the therapeutic treatment is described superficially as is the diagnosis. The evolution of the disease and the complications are only mentioned. The microbiota? the biofilm? these should also be discussed. I think this mini review is not suitable for publication.