

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Pneuma-Somatic Induction

Jay Lennon George Williams¹

¹ The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This term theorizes that there is a inductive energy transfer between the human body and soul, similar to the transfer of electrical energy in magnetic induction, that enables information transfer within the dual-substance of the human creature. This transfer contains a magnetic footprint not yet quantifiable to human technology, but once quantifiable, will enable greater insight into the human species as corporeal and incorporeal creature.