

Review of: "Grice's Café – Coffee, cream, and metaphor comprehension"

Michael Shaffer<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Gustavus Adolphus College

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper engages Grice's philosophy of language in a thorough manner, especially as it pertains to context, metaphor and the role of concepts in discourse. It is a nice presentation of the different schools of thought on this subject and makes clear the problems for those views.