Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

(1) Many works on the meaning of life has been produced in the past twenty years. I suggest the author refers to some of the works and then focus on Jung. This background will give you more insight when you make comment on Jung's meaning of life.

(2) The concept of meaning is closely related to the concept of values. You may address whether Jung embraces some objective values in the world and address Jung's understanding of meaning of life.
