It is a good and practical study but I made the following observations which should be addressed by the authors. After doing the following points, it can be accepted.

- It is recommended that it be edited by an English expert.
- Separate and specify the sections (introduction, method, results and discussion).

Abstract

- It needs to be rewritten. The abstract should be improve, very briefly the purpose of the study, methodology, results and conclusions should be mention.
- Mention the results in the form of numerical data as well.

Keywords

- The keyword is not mentioned.

Conclusion

- Finally, state your limitations of the study and possible suggestions for other researchers.

References

- References should be uniform.
