Dear authors,

I really enjoyed reading your essay. It appears to have been entirely created by AI software, in my opinion. In any case, the outcome is fantastic!

Your work is missing in some sections. The introduction should be brief, focusing on the current state of the art and the goal of the study. The goal should be thoroughly explained in the literature review section, which should include outline how to create research questions.

The methodology emphasize only the main steps of the research.

There are no results or conclusions sections, which should show how the ideas and concerns explored relate to one another. In Results section you should present the inter-relations between themes/ issues discussed. The Conclusions represents the main idea in a paragraph.

However, I was pleased by the theme's novelty and the references!

Success with your work!
