

Review of: "The neuropsychological effects of some childhood neurodevelopmental disorders"

Nilanjana Banerjee¹

¹ Manovikas Kendra Rehabilitation and Research Institute

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Comments

1. The genetic role should be further discussed since it is one of the most important aspect, in addition to the epigenetic factors.
2. The author might also discuss some of the factors like mode of delivery, birth weight, family history of mental retardation, birth order, age of the parents at birth, the parental age difference etc. in relation to the occurrence of such disorders in the present times. There are suitable references in literature (like Banerjee and Adak, 2022, Scientific Reports etc.)
3. A discussion paragraph on how such incidences are occurring so frequently in current days would also add to the merit of this paper.
4. The author should include a paragraph on the possible/suitable interventions that could be useful to at least lower the severity of the neurodevelopmental disorders, if not fully cure them.
5. Tabular form of data with summarization of each subtopic is highly encouraged.

Best Wishes to the authors.