The "Temperament, Character and Organisational Well-being among Obstetrics and Gynaecology Personnel" is an interesting study that explores a field of great and increasing interest in the healthcare organizations. The study is well conducted and clearly reported.

I've only two questions that in my opinion could be improved in the study. The first is if there exists a structured work related stress risk assessment in the Obstetrics and Gynaecology Units.

The second aspect of interest for me is if the study has considered and evaluated the possible interference caused by the pandemic period.
