

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Non-histaminic angioedema

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Non-histaminic angioedema. ORPHA:658

Angioedema is characterized by the occurrence of transitory and recurrent subcutaneous and/or submucosal edemas resulting in swelling and/or abdominal pain.