Dear authors, the manuscript seems well written with a logical sequence; however, some of the areas are found for corrections.

1. It would have been much better if the numbers were begun with words in the result section of the abstract.
2. Dear authors, kindly keep the keywords in alphabetical order.
3. Please keep citations of formula feeding, complementary feeding, and malnutrition status of the children in the introduction section to make it sound more robust.
4. In the methodology section, it was mentioned that the data was collected using record review retrospectively, so please mention how you took the written informed consent from the parents. Explain the channels used.
5. Kindly use a decimal in the 2nd line of page number 5. You have kept a comma.
6. In the Discussion section, many times you have mentioned "our study," so please don't mention "our study." It would be better if you use "In this study."
7. Better use the term "researchers" rather than writing "we."
8. The chi-square test findings are not highlighted in this study. The chi-square test could be used with other demographic factors of the child like gender, type of visit, most common diagnosis, etc.
9. References could be better managed with Vancouver Reference Management, and sometimes without dois in most of them. So keep dois as much as available, and if not, then keep the retrieved link.
10. Please write the limitations of the study.
