This is an addition to the other reviews. Generally, I would suggest the author submit the manuscript for English proofreading to give better clarity to the readers. Other than that, the length of the current manuscript should be increased along with more recent references.

Title: The word 'flower' in the title should be 'nectar' as nectar is the main focus of the review.

Abstract: The author should add more information on the market potential and future forecast to relate to the title. Please also add the problem statement and objective for this review.

Subtitle 'Overview in the Coconut Land (Xu Dua)'. Is this subtitle correct as the main title mention 'Coconut Land (Ben Tre)'?

1. Please add citations whenever necessary.
2. be consistent on the use of terminology either nectar, sap, honey etc.
3. Figures and Boxes were not mentioned in the manuscript, hence the readers do not understand what the Figures and Boxes are all about.
4. Figure 2 appear in 'health benefit' subtopic which not relevant to the subtopic.
5. Subtopic 'health benefit' can be further elaborated as there are a lot of references on this particular subtopic.
6. The subtopic title for 'The indigenous knowledge method' seems hanging. method of?
7. Under 'Techniques fo reexploiting coconut nectar', author mention season as one of the factors affecting the yield of coconut nectar where rainy season is more preferable than dry season. is it because of season or irrigation? would it be beneficial if we irrigate the coconut? hence we can maximize the yield.
