

Review of: "Why Should Urbanites be Earth/Geosciences Literate?"

Timoth Mkilima<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Dodoma

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The abstract should be refined and condensed to focus solely on the most pertinent objective and idea, while promptly addressing the paper's main point. Emphasizing the merits and originality of the work is crucial, and it's advised to avoid abbreviations in this section.
- The use of abbreviations in the abstract should be avoided.
- In the introduction, it is recommended to provide an overview of the development of the current research problem, the challenges involved, and existing solutions. A thorough review of these aspects will enhance the introduction.
- When revising the conclusion, make sure to base it on the material presented in the paper, including the objectives and key findings. Additionally, provide insights into future directions and potential applications of the work.