Very well written. This will be the future of education system. Methodology, discussions and all good. However, there are certain disadvantages of using this approach. Also there are stakeholders who would have different opinions. May be you can make the manuscript richer by adding stakeholders comments (please include views from parents, students alongwith others); based on these stakeholders comments, you can develop a section to discuss limitations or disadvantages of the approach. Then you can make a mangerial decision as to what could be the best acceptable path for implementation.
