The manuscript entitled "Saponins and their synergistic antibacterial activity with traditional antibiotics against Staphylococcus aureus and Escherichia coli: Review" represents an interesting review about harness of synergistic effect of the combined use of conventional antibiotics with naturally occurring antimicrobial substances. This paper gave some important suggestions for the use of saponins. As a whole, I can recommend the manuscript for publication. I have several minor comments on the manuscript:

1. The format of references should be consistent.
2. Improve the resolution of fonts in figure 1.
