The article is very educated regarding the biopsychosocial factors related to advanced ageing. There are some typos which need to be corrected such as "Sevilla and Castilla y Leon Centenarian Study", "encironment", "corelated" etc. What is the full meaning of GCS as used in the article? What are the outcomes from The China Hainan Centenarian Cohort Study? Also, what were the quantitative findings from the Hong Kong study of 153 near-centenarians? It will be good if authors can provide a table to summarize the findings of studies reveiwed. Finally, what are the gaps in the literature review which may serve as directions in prospective studies?
