

Review of: "Healthcare Systems Moving Toward Data Governance-Centered Model: India's G20 Presidency in the Wake of COVID"

Venkatesh Upadrista¹

¹ Glasgow Caledonian University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. This interesting article deals with a practical and important issue. But there are writing and grammatical errors that make it difficult to understand. It is necessary for the authors to carefully read and rewrite the article. Show modified items as highlights.
2. Please write the Introduction section again. In the introduction, the last paragraph before the end of section one should contain at least the following:
 - a. The proposed methods should clearly state what the main differences are between the proposed algorithm and the others.
 - b. How the contributions were made. Please write the contributions clearly.
 - c. The problem that has been solved in this research (state a hypothesis – a suggested solution to the problem).
 - d. The datasets that have been used in the research experiments.
 - e. The general results that you have obtained.
3. Reasoning in different parts of the proposed framework is lacking. The reasons behind the different parts of the proposal should be clearly stated.
4. Remove the old references. It would be better to cite more related articles, especially from the last two years.