

Review of: "Psychosocial Rehabilitation Services for Persons with Substance Use Disorder"

Monica Macellaro<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Milan

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear author and editors, thank you for involving me in the revision of this manuscript. The paper provides a comprehensive overview of the evolution, services, and contributions of addiction research centers, with a specific focus on the Centre for Addiction Medicine (CAM) at the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS) in Bangalore, India. Here are some suggestions to improve the overall quality of the paper. First, while the paper covers a wide range of topics, it could benefit from clearer organization and structure. I would suggest dividing it into sections or subsections to improve readability, i.e., introduction, methods, results, discussion, and conclusion. Moreover, to help readers understand the context and purpose of the study, I would provide a brief introduction at the beginning of the paper to outline the main objectives and scope of the research. Finally, authors could provide a concise summary of the implications of the research in the conclusion section by reinforcing the significance of the work and adding potential suggestions for future research.