

Review of: "Integrating Mental Health Support in Emergency Planning and Disaster Risk Mitigation Strategies"

Elvira Micali¹

¹ University of Messina

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Thanks for the invite. The type of paper must be specified. When we talk about mental health during catastrophic events, we cannot ignore the pre-existing personality typology and pre-morbid clinical pictures. It is useful to suggest psychotherapeutic activities to deal with stress and increase coping skills