

Review of: "Sacred Plants and Their Miraculous or Healing Properties"

María Angélica Mojica-Villegas¹

¹ Instituto Politécnico Nacional

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article in general takes us on a “sacred journey” in a historical way, emphasizing those plants with effects on the psyche. It could be enriched with specific data that mentions when a state of sedation, analgesia, taking into account dosage, conditions of use, etc. In the materials and methods section, it would be important to make clear how the information that appears in the results section was divided, since it only clarifies the diversity of designations and their historical vision, leaving a bit of confusion in this section, so that relation to the way of presenting the results.