

Review of: "Catholicity in thirteen words"

David Ming¹

¹ IAKN

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

As a review for this article papers, I understand that you are looking for ways to introduce Christianity to university students in a post-Christian era. You have summarized the Christian faith in thirteen words: Creation, Bible, Covenant, Flesh, Person, Easter, Church, Glory, Grace, Freedom, Truth, Love, Prayer. Here are some additional resources that may help you in your endeavor:

- 1. The Articles of Faith: 13 Beliefs: This resource provides a list of 13 beliefs of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. While it may not be directly related to your summary, it can provide additional insights into how different Christian denominations express their beliefs.
- 2. Enduring Word Bible Commentary : This website provides a commentary on different books of the Bible, including 1 Corinthians and Hebrews. These commentaries can help you understand how different aspects of Christianity are expressed in the Bible.
- 3. Christianity | Definition, Origin, History, Beliefs, Symbols, Types, & Facts | Britannica : This article provides a comprehensive overview of Christianity, including its history, beliefs, and practices. It can be a useful resource for gaining a deeper understanding of the religion.
- 4. An Introduction to Christian Theology : This resource provides a brief historical outline of the beginnings and major divisions of Christianity, as well as a summary of Christian beliefs in God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. It can be a helpful resource for understanding the theological underpinnings of Christianity.

In addition to these resources, you may want to consider incorporating interactive activities, such as group discussions or debates, to engage your students and encourage critical thinking. You could also invite guest speakers from different Christian denominations to provide additional perspectives and insights.

- a. What are some creative ways to teach Christianity to university students?
- b. How can you make Christianity relevant to a post-Christian era?
- c. What are some common misconceptions about Christianity that you can address in an introductory course?