Dear Authors, the work is nice but having some shortcomings and you are suggested with the following corrections as minor revision.

1. The novelty of the study is not clearly stated. The introduction should contain the novelty of the considered method and more history-based explanations of the projected research
2. Future research direction may be shown in the conclusion section.
3. What is the choice of the values $n=180$
4. There is a single author on this paper, the author wrote under " CONSENT SECTION" "All authors" please change it to " The author....."
