

Review of: "Entrepreneurship education in the Tanzanian higher education institutes: The learning theories perspective"

Ravee Phoewhawm¹

¹ Chongqing Technology and Business University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

To make this study much more effective is to focus on the aim which was written as "...teaching entrepreneurship should aim to impart a range of aspects like idea generation, managing start-up, innovation and business growth." From this aim there should be four research questions that ask about the teaching entrepreneurship with regards to idea generating, managing a start-up, innovation, and business growth. These research questions shall also be your guide for doing the literature review. What's missing is the research methodology. The author of this study will need to decide on how the data will be collected from each of the four research questions. The discussion on the aim will be on the author's own theoretical perspective. Even if the study has found out the program is failing it is important in contributing to academic theory in practice and for the economic policy makers to be aware of with regards to helping a nation grow. I hope my comment has been useful. Good luck with your work.