

Review of: "Balancing Wellbeing and Social Harmony"

Pallavi Ligade

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Overall, the paper provides a comprehensive perspective on the topic of authentic development and social harmony, presenting a multidisciplinary educational methodology for students. It tackles the intricacies of practical scenarios and underscores the necessity for equilibrium between social connections and financial prosperity. The integration of sociological and economic examination, together with the advancement of mutual comprehension among economists and sociologists, enriches the paper's contribution.

By analysing the paper, I conclude with my review points:

- 1) Could you please clarify the concept of authentic development and its relationship with social harmony and well-being?
- 2) Could you provide a more detailed explanation of the interdisciplinary educational approach proposed for students to understand and analyze components of social harmony?
- 3) What are the potential challenges and limitations of the proposed approach, such as the difficulty in evaluating subjective indicators of social harmony?
- 4) What are the practical implications of the proposed approach, such as the ability of students to suggest specific measures for local administrations to balance the overall FG ratios?

The use of these points may prove beneficial in enhancing the clarity and coherence of your paper, ultimately leading to a more significant impact on the reader.