

Review of: "Encounters with Others: Student Growth through Fieldwork Studies in Rural Areas"

Nathália Bastos<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Universidade Salgado de Oliveira

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Regarding the theme and its relevance, the topic studied is extremely relevant and is important in different contexts in different countries.

Regarding the structuring of the text, the study is clearly written and very well contextualized.

Regarding the method, I felt that there was a lack of further clarification regarding the methodology and theoretical basis used to analyze the interviews and examples of the questions asked in these interviews.

As for the results presented, they are also clearly described.

511 / 5.000

Resultados de tradução

Resultado da tradução