I would like to thank "Qeios" for considering me as a reviewer for this "writeup". According to me Dr. Linde provided a concise overview of "gastrulation" at the same time asking an interesting question. Defining gastrulation, its origin and mechanism seems fine for this writeup, at the same time I feel raising the question is bit vague (incomplete). The NMPs need to be more elaborative. Although author structured the writeup quite well but it can be polished further with few more references about NMPs.
